KENNETH L. BALLENGER

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty
Watches thy soul from the Mountains of God
Over the fates of thy children departed
Far from the land where their footsteps have trod
Beacon of hope in thy ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true;
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.—Brodie Payne

Benediction

HARRY SCOTT ASHMORE

Harry Scott Ashmore is a highly creative scholar in the fields of literature and political and social development. He holds deep convictions on major issues of our time and articulates his principles courageously and effectively.

Mr. Ashmore is President of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, a position in which he has earned wide recognition as an analyst of trends and movements affecting government, education, and the entire society.

In 1958, Mr. Ashmore received one of the highest honors awarded journalists in this country when he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing in the Arkansas Gazette, a newspaper he served for 11 years as executive editor. He also served for three years as editor of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Mr. Ashmore is a recipient of the Sidney Hillman and Freedom House Awards, and is the author of a number of books dealing with social changes in the Southern region and the country as a whole. He served his country with distinction in World War Two, receiving the Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters for action in Germany.

He held a coveted Nieman Fellowship in journalism at Harvard University, and holds an honorary degree from Oberlin College.

WILLIAM CAESAR WARFIELD

To William Caesar Warfield, the expression of great music is life itself. His reputation as a recital vocalist is unsurpassed, and he is unique in his versatility and achievements as both singer and actor. So great is his impact on audiences that the Department of State on six occasions has requested his services as a cultural ambassador of the United States, and he has presented concerts in 24 countries. Everywhere he sings, he is acclaimed for his rich voice, magnificent artistry, and compelling personality.

He is a television, radio, and motion picture star. His most recent movie was Showboat and he has appeared on numerous network television shows. He has starred in such musical theater successes as "Porgie and Bess" and in such straight dramatic roles as "De Lawd" in "Green Pastures".

Indeed, the role of Porgie and the George Gershwin opera itself have become indelibly associated with the name of William Warfield in the legitimate theater; and his performance in "Green Pastures" in the award-winning television production was so impressive that it was repeated at public insistence.

Mr. Warfield is a native of West Helena, Arkansas. He is a proficient pianist in addition to his great vocal talent. He is a veteran of World War II, and served with military intelligence because of his fluency in foreign languages.

ROBERT A. YOUNG, JR.

Robert A. Young, Jr. is a strongly dedicated man who feels a deep responsibility for the support of education.

He is a dynamic leader in the commercial and economic development of Arkansas, and is profoundly conscious of the crucial role of higher education in advancing the progress of the State and nation.

He has maintained his close identification with the University throughout most of his life. A graduate of the University's School of Law, Mr. Young served with distinction for 10 years on the University's Board of Trustees. Currently, he enthusiastically devotes much of his time, effort and leadership to his service as Chairman of the Executive Board and General Chairman of the Fund Raising Program for the University's Development Council. He is a recipient of a Distinguished Alumnus Citation from the University.

The endowment of the Robert A. and Vivian Young Chair in the College of Business Administration is contributing much to the development and academic strength of the University. Recently, Mr. Young and his company donated another large sum toward the cost of an urgently needed expansion of Waterman Hall, the School of Law building.

While the University is deeply appreciative of this support, it is even more grateful for his inspiring leadership in generating support from others, an activity which stems from his conviction that the progress of education is everyone's concern.

Mr. Young has rendered broad service in the civic activities of Ft. Smith, and has been an active leader in educational and health service programs in his home city. He is recognized nationally for his leadership in the transportation industry. His extensive business, banking, transportation and industrial operations have been a major factor in the growth of the Arkansas economy.

Distinguished Alumnus Citations

MAURICE L. BRITT

Maurice L. "Footsie" Britt is a man of heroic action tempered by a humane and charitable spirit.

In whatever the field of conflict—war, athletics or politics—he is an aggressive, courageous and persevering contestant. In whatever the field of service, he demonstrates his understanding of, and sympathy toward his fellow man.

Mr. Britt is one of the nation's most decorated soldiers of World War II, and was the first man in American Army history to receive the nation's three highest combat awards in a single year—the coveted Medal of Honor, the Distinguished Service Cross and the Silver Star. He won All-American recognition as an end for the Razorback football team and earned a starting position with the Detroit Lions professional team before he entered military service.

He excelled as a scholar while a student at the University, and he was the first member of the Republican party since Reconstruction years to be elected to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Arkansas. Currently, he serves as Arkansas District Manager of the Small Business Administration.

E. NOBLES LOWE

E. Nobles Lowe is a dynamic professional and business leader who has demonstrated his broadly-based concern for the development of education and the protection of our environment.

Mr. Lowe, a native of Minturn, Arkansas, is Vice-President and General Counsel for Westvaco, one of America's large corporations.

He is a prominent leader in the American legal profession and the American Bar Association has utilized his talents in some of its most important programs and activities. He has served on no less than fifteen American Bar Association committees and councils on subjects ranging from corporate law to regulations on specialties in law practice. He also has served as Vice-Chairman of the Association's Special Committee on Environmental Law as a member of the Environmental Institute and as a member of the Environmental Quality Committee of the Section on Natural Resources.

He was named Chairman this year of the Executive Committee of the American Arbitration Association, and served for two years as Vice-President of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Mr. Lowe is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and of its School of Law. He serves as a member of the University's Development Council and in other leadership positions affecting education, including his service as a trustee of the Willard School in New York; as Chairman and Director of the Bronxville Adult School and as President and Director of the Mercantile Library of New York. He has other broad interest in the arts, in conservation and in government.
